Reciprocating Saw Blades

Tough reciprocating saw blades for improved cutting power through a range of materials. Thick metals and hard surfaces are particularly difficult to cut through. In fact, it's typically one of a professional's least favourite jobs. Our reciprocating saw blades for wood, metal, glass and plastic use Bosch Carbide Technology to produce quick and professional cuts without being easily damaged. Their reinforced teeth increase resistance to both everyday wear-and-tear and demanding tasks, giving you a longer-lasting accessory with a high-quality output. See improvement in the speed when you cut through tough materials and the smoothness of the end result with Bosch reciprocating saw blades.
