The use of InLine® dust-proofing systems allows you to protect doors and connectors from dust, fumes and dirt, guaranteeing a longer life for your products. For example, dust and dirt, penetrating into equipment through unused doors, tend to stick and accumulate on the internal components and risk generating short circuits or malfunctions. Particularly useful for protecting TVs, LCD, TFT and Plasma monitors and displays in Audio/Video (A/V) systems, Digital Signage, digital signage, video posters or professional digital signage located in public environments such as public offices, stations, airports, stadiums, squares and others.
